

It's a Family Affair at Bluebird Park

(Published August 18, 2006 in the Laguna Beach Independent)

Photo attached by Christa Henry

Parents Club is holding a Bluebird Park get-together Aug. 23. Attending last month's picnic were, from left, Holden Geary, Shayne Applebaum, Anna Sanders, Keala Henry and Gianluca Megerdichian.

It's a Family Affair Next Wednesday in Bluebird Park

Laguna Beach Parents Club invites all interested families to a summer family evening in Bluebird Park at 5 p.m. on Wednesday, Aug. 23. It is an opportunity to socialize, sample grilled hot dogs and learn more about the club's activities.

The club sponsors many activities each month to promote fun and community spirit among families, giving the parents a chance to kick back while the children play.

No RSVP required; just show up with your kids, meet other families and enjoy a casual dinner. Bring some drinks and/or a snack to share. The hot dogs will be provided by the club.

The mission of the LBPC is to provide opportunities for Laguna Beach parents, particularly those with new babies and young children, to find support, create connections and develop a community to help them flourish as parents. The organization is dedicated to providing activities and resources that create supportive environments for mothers, fathers and children. For more information, visit www.lagunabeachparents.com.